

Martin Lemke

THE ROMAN JEWELRY FROM NOVAE, SECTION IV: PRELIMINARY STATISTICS

Abstract: This contribution summarizes finds of jewelry (excluding fibulae, but including combs) discovered in the almost 50 years of fieldwork in the Roman layers of section IV at Novae, most commonly known as the valetudinarium. Early medieval jewelry discovered in the cemetery of section IV has been excluded, since the author published it earlier, separately.

Keywords: Novae, legio I Italica, Roman jewelry, rings, bracelets, combs, glass beads, lunulae