A NEW DEDICATION TO JUPITER AND JUNO BY VETERANS AND ROMAN CITIZENS FOUND IN NOVAE

Abstract: In 2023, excavations by the Faculty of Archaeology University of Warsaw team in Sector XIII at Novae uncovered a fragmentary inscription on a column dedicated to Jupiter and Juno by veterans of legio I Italica and Roman citizens (consistentes) settled in the vicinity of the fortress. The inscription, possibly dating to the first three decades of the second century, attests to the presence of a local quasi-municipal administration, most probably active within the canabae.

Keywords: Novae, legio I Italica, canabae, veterans, consistentes, quasi-municipal administration, epigraphy.
